

Biographical notes

Geneviève Provencher

Director of Finance

Genevieve Provencher joined the Lucie and André Chagnon Foundation in October 2019 as Director of Finance. She leads the team of accounting and finance professionals that is responsible for all financial activities of the Foundation.

She has over 20 years of international experience as a Finance leader in both corporate and entrepreneurial environments. Along with strong compliance, controllership and financial planning capabilities, Ms. Provencher has a proven record in building valuable finance partnerships that leverage collaboration, analytics and forward thinking to assist in decision-making.

She started her career at Pratt & Whitney Canada, spending 13 years in leadership roles for Corporate Financial Planning, Operations and Aftermarket Finance, Controllership and Treasury. She was also selected for a 2-year strategic mandate with the President's office, where she collaborated on driving the company's transformation agenda and strategic plan. Until joining the Foundation, she was Vice-President Finance at Camso, an international tire manufacturer and distributor located in the Eastern Townships, where she spent five years building a world class finance organization, playing a key role in the sale of Camso to the Michelin Group in December 2018.

Genevieve Provencher is a member of the Ordre des CPA du Québec. She completed her undergraduate education in Economics at the University of Western Ontario and in Accounting at McGill University.
